GREY'S ANATOMY 7 p.m. on WFAA

Co-star Jesse Williams — alias the show's Jackson - turns director with the new episode "Fight For Your Mind," which gives his character much to do in trying to restore the foundation's figurative health. Alex and Jo (Justin Chambers, Camilla Luddington) head for Iowa in search of Alex's long-unheard-from mother. Meredith's (Ellen Pompeo) presentation, related to her project, earns her a lot of attention. Rachel Ticotin continues her guest role. Chandra Wilson, James Pickens Jr. and Kevin McKidd also star.

CHAMPIONS 8:30 p.m. on KXAS

A first date is a big deal for anyone, and Michael (J.J. Totah) experiences it in the new episode "Deal or No Deal." Vince and Matthew (Anders Holm, Andy Favreau) are prepping to make enhancements to the gym when an unexpected offer comes their way. Fortune Feimster, Mouzam Makkar, Yassir Lester and Robert Costanzo also star.

QUANTICO 9 p.m. on WFAA

Ryan (Jake McLaughlin) goes undercover in an effort to stop white supremacists from spreading a lethal strain of tuberculosis in the new episode "Fear and Flesh." The mission may have a major impact on another agent. Alan Powell becomes a cast regular here. Priyanka Chopra, Johanna Braddy, Russell Tovey, Marlee Matlin and Blair Underwood also star.

THE BLACKLIST 7 p.m. on KXAS

It took a long time for Red's (James Spader) exact connection to Liz (Megan Boone) to be revealed, and his apparent link to someone else generates another mystery in the new episode "Nicholas T. Moore." The person in question is a youngster, and Liz and the Task Force try to figure out what she has to do with Red.

THE WHITE HOUSE CORRESPONDENTS DINNER 2018

6 p.m., 7 p.m., 8 p.m., 9 p.m., 10 p.m. on CNN

John Berman, Poppy Harlow, Laura Jarrett, Kaitlan Collins and Kate Bennett host CNN's live coverage of The White House Correspondents' Dinner from Washington, D.C., with Michelle Wolf, a frequent contributor on "The Daily Show With Trevor Noah," handling the main comedy chores. This gathering of the Washington press corps, which raises money for journalism scholarships, also honors the year's outstanding work in reporting, in addition to a hefty helping of jokes, many of them at the expense of the sitting administration.

THE BEACH HOUSE 8 p.m. on HALL, HMM

After losing her job in Chicago, Cara Rudland (Minka Kelly, "Friday Night Lights") returns to the Lowcountry of South Carolina to visit her mother (Andie MacDowell), who at the moment is caring for Toy (Makenzie Vega), a young pregnant friend, in a charming beach house. As Cara gets back into her love of coastal wildlife, she also renews her past romance with Brett (Chad Michael Murray, "One Tree Hill"). This 2018 drama is adapted from a novel by Mary Alice Monroe.

IYANLA, FIX MY LIFE 8 p.m., 11 p.m. on OWN

When a police officer killed her fiance, Philando Castile, during a routine traffic stop, Diamond Reynolds live-streamed the chaotic aftermath of that tragedy. Iyanla is joined by Sybrina Fulton, the mother of slain teenager Trayvon Martin, as she counsels Diamond and tries to heal her painful trauma in the new episode "Witness to a Killing: Philando's Fiancee."

ELEMENTARY 9 p.m. on KTVT

It's getting a much-later-thanusual-start on its season, but the mystery series returns for its sixth round with "An Infinite Capacity for Taking Pain" as the modern Sherlock Holmes (Jonny Lee Miller) tries to deal with the medical prognosis he's been given. Though Watson (Lucy Liu) wants to lend support, Holmes feels more kinship toward a man (new cast regular Desmond Harrington, "Dexter") he apparently helped attain sobriety. The sleuths also probe the murder of a participant in a racy tape that's now online. Trieste Kelly Dunn ("Blindspot") guest stars.

AMC VISIONARIES: JAMES CAMERON'S STORY OF SCIENCE FICTION

9:05 p.m., 2:50 a.m. on AMC

Oscar-winning writer, director and producer James Cameron ("Avatar") presents an insider's look at the genre that has become a cornerstone of contemporary pop culture in this new six-part TV series. The premiere, "Aliens," explores a recurring story element in science fiction, particularly in terms of what extraterrestrial characters can teach us about being human. Guests for the series include Steven Spielberg, George Lucas, Ridley Scott, Sigourney Weaver, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Will Smith and Christopher Nolan.

HOMELAND 8 p.m., 11 p.m., 1:30 a.m. on SHOW

Real-life current events in Washington, D.C., where the administration of President Donald Trump effectively has declared war on its own intelligence community, prompted this show's writers to jettison their original plans for Season 7 in favor of a story line that finds Carrie Mathison (Claire Danes) clashing with some highhanded moves by the show's sitting president, Elizabeth Keane (Elizabeth Marvel). Critics and fans alike mostly have embraced this audacious scenario, which wraps up tonight in the season finale "Paean to the People."

Ovation's 'The Wine Show' an entertaining guide to all things grape

If you're an oenophile and you haven't already found it, "The Wine Show" may be worth an hour of your time.

Airing Wednesdays on Oyation, the lifestyle/ documentary series takes viewers on an entertaining and informative walk-through of all things related to wine - from locations and history to gadgets and the wines themselves – guided by the affable hosts, actors Matthew Rhys ("The Americans," "Brothers and Sisters") and Matthew Goode ("The Crown," "Downton Abbey"), as well as resident wine experts Joe Fattorini and Amelia

Along the way, they visit worldwide locations such as Chile, to see how the winemaking industry has fared since a devastating 2010 earthquake; Shanghai, to check out its emerging wine culture; the Burgundy region of France, for a wine auction; and the Mornington Peninsula of Australia, home to a plethora of vineyards and wineries.

In this week's episode, Rhys and Goode head to Rome to sample Roman wine recipes.

"In Rome, we centered on history and one of those elements being ancient Roman wine," Rhys explains, "and what they used to do or how they drank it, how they preserved it, what accompanied it, which you'd need a cast-iron stomach to kind of live and quaff in ancient Roman times. It was a tough test."

"Tough" is a relative term in a series such as this, where there is lots of sipping of great wine in breathtaking locations. But that isn't all this is about. There is also plenty of useful information on wine gadgets, winemaking and other minutia to be had and, as one would expect, discussion of the wines themselves.

And there is also the light-hearted touch of the hosts, Rhys and Goode, two long-time friends whose rapport and mischievous sense of humor are apparent as they kid > with each other, Fattorini and Singer, and make funny asides to the camera. Like the viewer, both actors are on a journey of discovery about wine. As Rhys says, "We enjoy vast quantities of it but know nothing about it."

> "This is fun for us," Rhys adds with a laugh. "It's a tough one to sell to the family when you're saying I'm going to go to a country for a month and drink wine. ... It's never a great conversation when you're calling home saying I've been drinking wine all day in an Italian villa.
