bsi.identify

Machine (and human) readable information types included on product pages for BSI Identify.

Application Information	A link to details providing clarity to the application of products, may highlight the requirements for ancillary materials and product installation.
Approved Installers	A link to a list of approved installers.
Library Object	A link to a Library Object (BIM Object) for a product.
Brochure	A link to literature to support product selection and design choices.
Case Study	A link to showcasing information on the use of a product.
Declaration of Performance	A link to information on the performance of a product.
Details Drawings	A link to drawings (often as CAD) detailing how different scenarios impact on installation.
Environmental Declaration	A link to document which communicates the environmental performance or impact of a product over its lifetime.
Installation Guide	A link to the installation guide for a product.
Installation Video	A link to a video showing installation process for a product.
Maintenance Guide	A link to the maintenance guide for a product.
Product Webpage	A link to a Manufacturer's webpage containing details of a specific product.
Product Data Sheet	A link to a product data sheet for a product.
Product Directory	A link to a directory with product entry.
Product Specification	A link to a specification for a product.
Product Recall	A link to recall information for a product.
Safety Critical Information	A link to information that have been classified as 'safety' critical' by MHCLG.
Safety Data Sheet	A link to safety information about the product.
Service Information	A link to service information for the product.
Stockists or Suppliers	A link to information about where products can be purchased from if relevant.